

Dorothy Fagan is a cutting edge designer, painter, healing artist, and colorist whose mission is to reach out with color, activating the body's innate creative healing processes. Fagan's oil paintings, fiber art, and illustrations are installed in hospitals, mental health centers, corporate, and residential spaces. Her Vitality Color Palette of chakra-aligned colors, linking the hologram of the artist's color wheel with innate movement of healing energy in the body, earth, and spirit was developed during her own recovery from PTSD.

Fagan holds a B. F. A. in printmaking and painting from East Carolina University and completed a ten-year American Masters painting mentorship with Robert Bowers Mayo, director Gallery Mayo and Valentine Museum. Her works are in the permanent collections of the City University of New York, Longwood University Art Museum, and Musée de La Grande Vigne, Dinan, France.
