Why use a consultant?

Have you ever wondered why a consultant is an integral part of designing your office space? The right furniture can make all the difference, but with so many products, specifications and similarities, the choice can become overwhelming. Along with trying to orchestrate lead times, obtaining multiple answers from multiple vendors, and organising deliveries, the process can become incredibly time consuming and overly expensive.

We work closely with you or your clients to create a customised plan that aligns with brand, culture, and budget. Investing in the right furniture from the beginning can save you money in the long run. We take into account everything from durability, maintenance, sustainability to visualisations and even mock ups for you to test out.

Our installation team not only saves you time and effort but also ensures that the furniture is set up correctly. Additionally, we provide comprehensive training on cleaning, maintenance, and aftercare allowing you to effectively care for your products. Our clients are everything we are, and once the work is done our level of support doesn't stop there. We will always be available to provide any future services or support any issues.

Building a better future.

We are committed to sourcing products that provide a positive impact on the environment. By providing end-to-end supply chain transparency, we are able to demonstrate the sustainability journey that all our products take, from raw material sourcing to product returns and recycling processes. A key example of this is in the manufacturing of furniture - where the swapping of unsustainable materials for raw, organic options that are easy to source and recycle, can make a huge difference. We are committed to playing a significant role in helping our clients make sustainable choices. We will always put forward recommendations that we know deliver longevity

Each year we set new targets that aim to create a measurable difference in our efforts to booster our ESG performance. We are continuously looking for new and innovative ways to make a difference that will benefit the environment and all those wiithin it. More of this can be found at
